OBJECTIONS OF GIANTS STADIUM LLC TO DEBTORS' SUBPOENA FOR ADDITIONAL RULE 2004 EXAMINATION

Pursuant to Rules 2004 and 9016 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure and Rule 45 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Giants Stadium LLC (“GSLLC”), by its undersigned counsel, hereby objects to the Subpoena for Rule 2004 Examination dated and served on April 9, 2012 (“Subpoena”) propounded by Lehman Brothers Special Finance and Lehman Brothers Holdings, Inc. (jointly, “Debtors”), as follows:

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

1. GSLLC objects to the Subpoena on the grounds that it is an abuse of the Debtors’ Rule 2004 subpoena powers, brought solely to annoy, harass, and oppress GSLLC. Not only is the requested discovery unnecessary for the Debtors to decide whether to object to GSLLC’s Claims, it has become clear that Debtors have already decided (i) to object to the Claims, and

(ii) precisely the grounds on which they will base their objections. In negotiation and mediation, Debtors have outlined in no uncertain language their opposition to allowing the Claims at their submitted value and the battery of arguments underwriting this opposition. Thus, the Subpoena—which purportedly is a representation by Debtors that they require more information before deciding whether to object to the Claims—is litigation gamesmanship and nothing more. The continued resort to Rule 2004 discovery—this is the third subpoena issued against GSLLC, brought more than three years after GSLLC’s Claims were filed—is only possible because Debtors have delayed filing their objection to the Claims. The resulting discovery imbalance, where GSLLC has produced almost 64,000 pages and Debtors have produced none, is the primary reason for such delay.

2. GSLLC objects to the Subpoena insofar as it commands GSLLC to produce information that is irrelevant to any claim or defense of the parties and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. For example, communications taking place years after the swaps’ termination and valuation is plainly irrelevant to the Claims. The command to produce patently irrelevant information is an abuse of Debtors’ Rule 2004 authority, brought solely to annoy, harass, and oppress GSLLC.

3. GSLLC objects to the Subpoena insofar as it commands GSLLC to produce information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the joint defense or common interest privilege, the attorney work product protection, or any other applicable privilege, immunity, or protection from disclosure. Indeed, the Subpoena itself seems intentionally designed to invade improperly the privilege and work product protections over documents concerning Giants Stadium’s litigation strategy. Any disclosure of information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the joint defense or common interest privilege, the attorney work product protection, or any other applicable privilege, immunity, or protection is inadvertent and should not be construed to constitute a waiver. The command to produce categorically privileged information is an abuse of Debtors' Rule 2004 authority brought solely to annoy, harass, and oppress GSLLC.

4. GSLLC objects to the Subpoena insofar as it purports to impose burdens or duties upon GSLLC that exceed the requirements or permissible scope of discovery under the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Local Rules of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York, or any other applicable laws, rules, or judicial orders.

5. GSLLC objects to the Subpoena insofar as it commands GSLLC to produce information regarding issues other than the transactions entered into between GSLLC and Lehman Brothers Special Financing Inc. pursuant to the ISDA Master Agreement (FGIC-Insured) dated as of July 27, 2007, the ISDA Master Agreement (FSA-Insured) dated as of July 27, 2007, and related documents.

6. GSLLC objects to the Subpoena on the grounds that it commands GSLLC to produce information that is unreasonably cumulative or duplicative of information already obtained in discovery and information that is obtainable from another source that is more convenient, less burdensome, or less expensive. The Debtors already have obtained almost 64,000 pages from GSLLC and deposed an Authorized Representative of GSLLC for more than seven hours.

7. GSLLC objects to Definition 1 ("Bank of America") and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase "any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control"), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party's claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

8. GSLLC objects to Definition 2 ("Baupost") and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase "any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control"), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party's claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

9. GSLLC objects to Definition 6 ("Document") and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous, and seek information that is neither relevant to any party's claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

10. GSLLC objects to Definition 7 ("FGIC") and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase "any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control"), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party's claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

11. GSLLC objects to Definition 9 ("FSA") and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase "any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control”), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party’s claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

12. GSLLC objects to Definition 10 (“Giants Stadium”) and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase “any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control”), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party’s claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

13. GSLLC objects to Definition 11 (“Goal Line”) and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase “any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control”), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party’s claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

14. GSLLC objects to Definition 12 (“Goldman Sachs”) and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase “any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control”), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party’s claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

15. GSLLC objects to Definition 15 (“LBHI”) and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase “any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control”), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party’s claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

16. GSLLC objects to Definition 16 (“LBSF”) and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase “any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control”), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party’s claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

17. GSLLC objects to Definition 20 (“NFL”) and to any specific document requests incorporating that definition on the grounds that such definition and any such document requests are overbroad, unduly burdensome, vague and ambiguous (including but not limited to the phrase “any person or entity acting on its behalf or under its control”), and seek information that is neither relevant to any party’s claim or defense, nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

18. GSLLC objects to the first Instruction (§ 27) insofar as it commands GSLLC to produce information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the joint defense or common interest privilege, the attorney work product protection, and/or other applicable privilege, immunity, or protection from disclosure. Any disclosure of information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the joint defense or common interest privilege, the attorney work product protection, or any other applicable privilege, immunity, or protection is inadvertent and should not be construed to constitute a waiver.

19. GSLLC objects to the second Instruction (§ 28) insofar as it purports to impose burdens or duties upon GSLLC that exceed the requirements or permissible scope of discovery under the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Local Rules of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York, or any other applicable laws, rules, or judicial orders. GSLLC further objects to the second Instruction insofar as it places an unreasonable burden on GSLLC and is brought solely to annoy, harass, and oppress GSLLC.

20. GSLLC objects to the third Instruction (§ 29) insofar as it purports to impose burdens or duties upon GSLLC that exceed the requirements or permissible scope of discovery under the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Local Rules of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York, or any other applicable laws, rules, or judicial orders. GSLLC further objects to the third Instruction insofar as it places an unreasonable burden on GSLLC and is brought solely to annoy, harass, and oppress GSLLC.

21. GSLLC objects to the fourth Instruction (§ 30) insofar as it purports to impose burdens or duties upon GSLLC that exceed the requirements or permissible scope of discovery under the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Local Rules of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York, or any other applicable laws, rules, or judicial orders. GSLLC further objects to the fourth Instruction insofar as it places an unreasonable burden on GSLLC and is brought solely to annoy, harass, and oppress GSLLC.

22. GSLLC objects to the eighth Instruction (§ 34) insofar as it purports to impose burdens or duties upon GSLLC that exceed the requirements or permissible scope of discovery under the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Local Rules of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York, or any other applicable laws, rules, or judicial orders. GSLLC further objects to the eighth Instruction insofar as it places an unreasonable burden on GSLLC, is brought solely to annoy, harass, and oppress GSLLC, commands the production of information that is unreasonably cumulative or duplicative of information already obtained in discovery and/or information that is obtainable from another source that is more convenient, less burdensome, or less expensive.

23. GSLLC objects to the ninth Instruction (§ 35) insofar as it purports to impose burdens or duties upon GSLLC that exceed the requirements or permissible scope of discovery under the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Local Rules of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York, or any other applicable laws, rules, or judicial orders. GSLLC further objects to the eighth Instruction insofar as it places an unreasonable burden on GSLLC, is brought solely to annoy, harass, and oppress GSLLC, and commands GSLLC to produce information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the joint defense or common interest privilege, the attorney work product protection, and/or other applicable privilege, immunity, or protection from disclosure.

24. GSLLC objects to the tenth Instruction (§ 36) insofar as it commands the production of information that is unreasonably cumulative or duplicative of information already obtained in discovery. GSLLC further objects to the tenth Instruction on the grounds that the Debtors already have enough information to determine whether to object to the GSLLC's claims and any further discovery by Debtors should be conducted pursuant to Rule 9014 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure for contested matters.

25. GSLLC objects to the eleventh Instruction (§ 37) insofar as it commands the production of information that is unreasonably cumulative or duplicative of information already obtained in discovery. GSLLC further objects to the eleventh Instruction on the grounds that the Debtors already have enough information to determine whether to object to the GSLLC's claims and any further discovery by Debtors should be conducted pursuant to Rule 9014 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure for contested matters.

26. GSLLC objects to the "Relevant Time Period" insofar as it commands GSLLC to produce information that is patently irrelevant to any claim or defense of the parties and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence, information that is unreasonably cumulative or duplicative of information already obtained in discovery, and information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the joint defense or common interest privilege, the attorney work product protection, and/or other applicable privilege, immunity, or protection from disclosure.
